The File Says You Failed

Eight parents missed appointments after their shifts changed. You help a state committee decide what should count as proof.

Open the game in your browser. Download the game. If it arrived in a ZIP, extract it first. In your browser, press Ctrl+O on Windows or Linux or Command+O on a Mac. Open The_File_Says_You_Failed.html.

Choose your mode

For Class is the full assignment. Plan for 50 to 60 minutes and add four answers to your report. For Fun is for exploring. Writing is optional and you can keep a progress backup. Choose Class for an assignment PDF.

Your first decision

All eight parents qualify for cash assistance. They have seven days to prove their shift conflict. Choose a proof rule and predict which cases may close. In Class, write the forecast, then choose Record answer and open files. Apply both rules to the same files.

Class checkpoint	Minimum	What to do
Rule and forecast	20 words	Say what proof you would accept and what you expect.
Finding from the files	65 words	Use a file and the group totals under both rules.
Hearing record	65 words	Compare the two votes and use both parents’ accounts.
Audit in a new state	80 words	Calculate two rates, explain your test, and use one idea from your research note.

Keep your work

Type or dictate. In Class, copy or cut text in an answer and paste it back while you stay in that same answer field. For Fun and the name and course boxes, paste as usual. Record each finished answer. The report includes first and latest recorded answers and can show saved For Fun progress from this browser.

Choose Save & pause to return in the same browser. To move your work, choose Save progress backup. In the new copy, choose Open a progress backup and select the downloaded JSON file. If the browser cannot save, download a progress backup before closing the tab.

Turn in your Class PDF

At Finish, enter your name and course or section. Choose Print or save as PDF, then select Save as PDF in the print dialog. To review first, choose Open Class report. Check your saved PDF for your name, all four answers, and the last page. Upload it to Canvas and check your submission there.
